BC Scraps Campus Accessibility Project, Hopes Things Will Work Themselves Out

UPPER CAMPUS — On March 17, Boston College and the UGBC Council for Students with Disabilities (CSD) announced that plans for the Upper Pavilion, a project that would make Upper Campus accessible, had been scrapped. In a major loss for the community, the BC administration only offered a brief statement, "We hope things will work themselves out!"

A passive and detached administration is nothing new to Boston College students. When the Classic reached out to an administrator in Student Affairs for a comment they said, "We feel for those students who have disabilities, but thankfully they can rely on the grace of god to get to the top of Upper Campus."

Currently, first-year students with disabilities have to live on Newton Campus and rely on buses that are not always wheel-chair accessible or on the unreliable Eagle Escort service. When confronted with this issue, BC administrator Abel Ist said, "Really things just always work themselves out so I'm not worried at all!"

When asked to further explain her vague comment, Ist retorted, "Fingers crossed!" as she lifted up her middle finger and crossed her ring finger over it.

When asked what students with disabilities should do in the meantime, President Leahy said, "Just do what we do! Wait for Jesus to come back and perform his 8th miracle of turning the stairs into an elevator!"

At press time, administration expressed hope that campus accessibility will improve in the coming years as Father Leahy learns to spell "accessibility" and BC runs out of poorly edited tulip photos to post on Instagram as a distraction.

Tucker Carlson Applied For The New England Classic, And Here's What He Wrote

MURDOCH ESTATE BASEMENT — You may remember me from your Grandparent's living room television that never leaves Fox News, you may remember me from my popular YouTube compilation "TOP 10 TIMES TUCKER CARLSON MADE LIBERALS CRY," or you may remember me from your nightmares. I am Tucker Carlson. This is my application for The New England Classic.

After Fox News yielded to the "woke" left (#weak) and unceremoniously fired me for being bigger than the network itself, I decided it was time for a new challenge: writing satire. When I arrived on campus I expected to be assaulted with false truths about our great country and harassed with liberalisms everywhere I went. What I found was a conservative paradise.

Let me explain. The Student body is certainly woke, liberal, and 100% pure snowflake, but the administration gets what this country needs. Their archaic refusal to provide resources for their students in the LGBTQ community is what any strong, red-blooded, American man would want for their university.

Alongside that, BC dining has played a neat little trick on their vegan, veggie loving snowflake children: All the veggie burgers are filled with yummy, gamey horse meat. This elicited a hearty guffaw from me when I found out. I am going to collect their vegan tears like the dystopian welfare state of California collects rainwater.

What the liberal left would never let you know about Boston College is that CAB is a 501(c)(3) and has not paid taxes in 30 years. They claim tax evasion is some "crime" yet they do not want to tax their own filthy rich Campus Activity Industrial Complex.

At press time, Tucker was seen crying in the Rat over our rejection email.

2024 Commencement Speaker Announced To Be JBL Flip 4

ALUMNI STADIUM — Due to budget cuts, the class of 2024 commencement will be facing some downsizing projects. Most notably, the commencement speaker has been downgraded to a JBL Flip 4.

"We were gonna try for Amy Poehler or the Bose S1 Pro, but it just wasn't making sense for us," said administrator Jay Beal. "The Bose S1 Pro didn't offer the professional level base radiator and waterproofing capabilities in a compact, portable form like the Flip 4 does, and Amy Poehler told us she would rather shit in her hands and clap than return to BC ever again."

BC Administration seemed excited about taking this different direction. "Unlike this year's speaker, Ambassador Oksana Markarova, the JBL Flip 4 features up to 12 hours of continuous, high quality audio playtime and an echo-canceling speakerphone that allows you to take mobile phone calls at a crystal-clear quality level. It says so right on the Amazon listing, where you can purchase your very own for only $79.95," said Father Leahy.

At press time, Leahy and Beal were seen downloading AmpMe in preparation for the Class of 2025 Commencement.

If you chose mostly B, you are…Giving your literal closest friends on campus the BC lookaway. Why did you do that? I get avoiding your weird weekend hookup, but are you really so awkward you couldn't say hello to your roommates?

French Fry Corner!

Q: What is your favorite fast food french fry?
Angry White Mountain Manager Guy: Wendy's! I just love how they feel in my hands, the shape of their french fry bodies crumbling between my fingers like hot cheese on a warm summer's day.

Q: What is your favorite fast food french fry?
Shawna Cooper-Whitehead: McDonald's! I think the crispy bite and the yummy warmth they offer is simply undeniable!

Q: What is your favorite fast food french fry?
Can Erbil: I gotta go with Arby's. I just…fuck…it's so good. When I think of the way they curl I just…shiver. So yeah, Arby's.

Q: What is your favorite fast food french fry?
Lynne O'Connell: Dairy Queen!
Interviewer's Note: freak.

Q: What is your favorite fast food french fry?
Extremely Tall and Scary Manager in Mac: I need a warm, soft, yummy wummy Taco Bell nacho fry in my mouth right the fuck now. Jesus Christ just thinking about it, my knees are weak. I want it so bad, I can't control myself. Sometimes when I'm alone I put my fingers in my mouth and imagine they're Taco Bell nacho fries. I'll even drool into a little cup and dip them in there before dunking them back into my hungry lips to simulate the little cup of nacho cheese they give you with them. Fuck…oh my god…fuck.
